NIKA MATRIX

COUPLE'S FORECAST

The Energy of the Year in Your Relationship

by Nika Matrix

About the Author

My name is Nika Matrix.

Over my years of practice, I have given thousands of consultations. Thousands of couples, thousands of stories, thousands of turning points that people couldn't foresee — and paid dearly for afterward.

I don't simply read matrices. I live this. The Matrix of Destiny became for me the language in which life itself speaks to me — precise, clear, leaving no room for coincidence. And the longer I practice, the more deeply I'm convinced: there is no chaos in relationships. There are only patterns we haven't learned to see.

I have seen couples who broke up half a year before their relationship was due to reach its peak. I have seen those who invested everything in the union precisely when the energy of the year was pulling downward — and lost. I have seen people who lived for years blindly, reacting to crises after the fact, when it was already too late.

And every time I thought one thing: if only they had known in advance.

This book is so that you will know.

Why Relationships Move in Cycles

We are used to thinking love is a straight line. That if people are truly made for each other, everything should be smooth and easy. And when a difficult period comes — we panic. We think: that's it, love is over, we made a mistake, this was the wrong person.

This is a profound delusion — and it has destroyed more couples than any betrayal.

Relationships are alive. They have breath — an inhale and an exhale. There are high tides, when you're carried toward each other, and low tides, when you want to step aside. There are years when the union surges upward, builds, expands — and years when it seems to freeze, goes inward, is tested for strength.

This is not a malfunction. It is a rhythm. Each couple has its own, and it's set not by mood and not by fatigue — but by the energy of time, which changes from year to year by precise laws.

The problem is that most people live through these dips blindly. They don't understand why it suddenly became hard. Why they drifted apart. Why what worked before — stopped. And they take a natural dip for the end of feeling. They leave at the darkest moment — not knowing that a rise always follows it.

But the one who knows the rhythm — doesn't panic. They understand: this is low tide, and that's normal. Soon there will be high tide. And instead of destroying — they protect.

I Don't Believe in Coincidences

Not in love, not in breakups, not in why one year gives a couple closeness and another — trials. Behind all of it stands a precise mechanics. The energy of time.

Every year you and your partner enter a new energy. It sets the tone for everything — the mood, the events, what you'll go through together. One year is made for building and strengthening.

Another — for rethinking. A third — for surviving a crisis and emerging stronger.

This energy doesn't ask your permission. It comes on its own — by the laws of the Matrix of Destiny, by a rhythm that was set before you even met. You may not know about it — but you live through it all the same. The only question is: blindly or consciously.

Destiny and Choice

Many think that if the future can be read — then everything is predetermined, and nothing depends on us. This is not so.

The matrix shows energy. A tendency. The field you will be in. But how you live through that field — in the plus or in the minus — depends only on you. Two different people will live through the same year completely differently. One — as a catastrophe. The other — as a springboard. The difference between them is in awareness. In knowledge. In whether you understand what's happening to you and why. The energy of the year is the cards you've been dealt. But how you play them — you decide. Forecasting doesn't cancel your freedom. It strengthens it. Because only by knowing the hand — can you play truly well.

What Forecasting Gives You

Forecasting is the code of time. Knowing it, you stop being passengers in your own relationship. You become the ones who steer.

You see in advance: here is a year of rise — invest, expand, take steps. And here is a year of trial — be gentler, more conscious, don't cut from the shoulder. You understand what your partner is going through, what you are going through, and what shared field holds your union right now. You stop taking a temporary dip for the end of love. You stop panicking in a difficult period. You stop leaving right before the dawn. And you begin to see your relationship as a whole — as a path that has rhythm, meaning, and direction.

This doesn't strip life of its magic. On the contrary. It gives you the strength to pass through any period consciously — and to bring the relationship into the plus where others lose everything. After this, you will never live blindly again.

Author's Note

All the stories in this book are real — they are drawn from my practice and thousands of consultations. But out of respect for my clients' privacy, all names have been changed, and identifying details have been hidden or combined. It is not the person that matters — it is the mechanism.

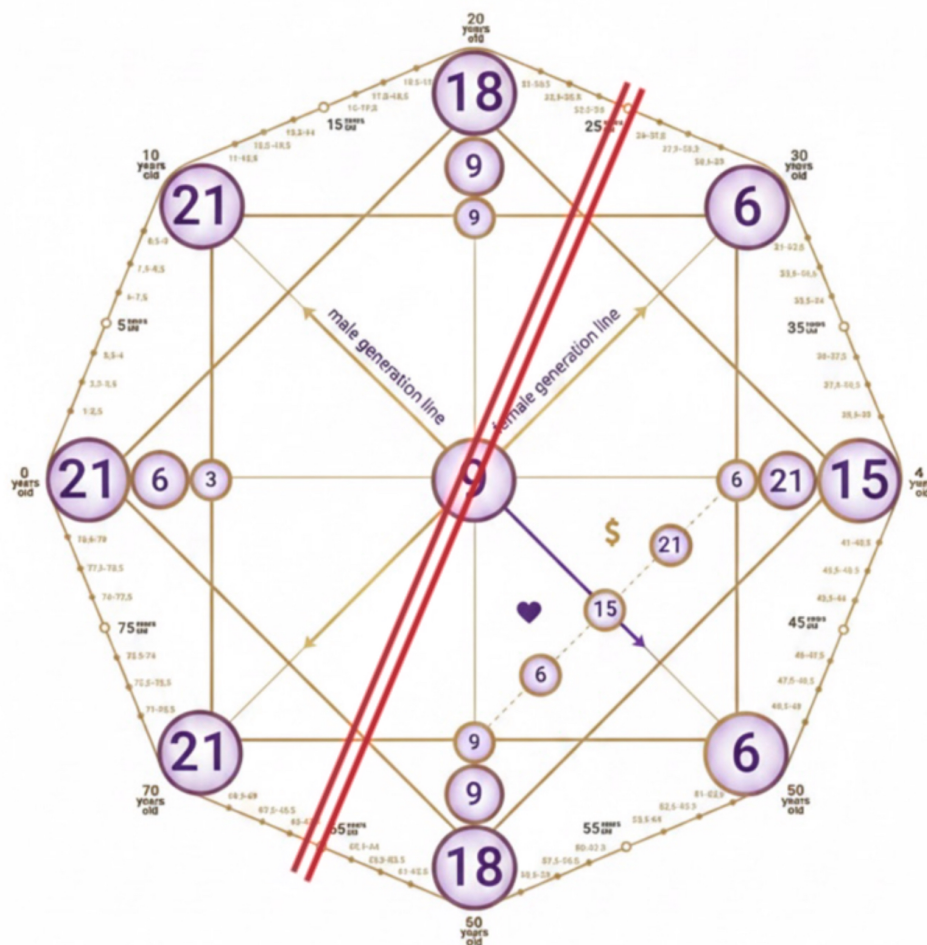

How to Calculate the Personal Forecast

Every person has their own forecasting program — a triple key. It consists of three energies.

The first energy — we find it in the matrix by your current age. This is the general tendency of the period. The mood, the theme, the challenge that defines the whole year.

The second energy — we add 40 to your age and find this energy in the matrix. This is the event-line of the period — and at the same time the key to the first energy. It is precisely through it, through its tasks and possibilities, that we bring the first energy into the plus.

An important point: the matrix cycle covers only 80 years. If a person is, say, 51 years old ($51 + 40 = 91$), then we subtract — we look at the arcana at age 51 and at age 11, and the third arcana is their sum.

The rule is simple: before 40 we add, after 40 we subtract.

The third energy — we add the first two together. If the sum is greater than 22 — we add the digits once more. The final number is from 3 to 22. This is the outcome of the period. What you will arrive at — in the plus or in the minus. And this outcome is determined by how consciously you passed through the first two energies.

If you possess the information — and that is exactly what this book is written for — only a strange person wouldn't use it. But if you prefer to leave everything to chance — the minuses won't keep you waiting.

How to Read a Couple's Forecast

We take the triple key of each partner and add them together. We get the shared energy of the couple for this period.

For example, Nika's key is 17-11-10, and Hope's key is 4-15-19. The shared key will look like this:

1. $17 + 4 = 21$
2. $11 + 15 = 26; 2 + 6 = 8$
3. $10 + 19 = 29; 2 + 9 = 11$

The couple's program: 21 — 8 — 11

Here it's important to keep one thing in mind: everyone's birthday falls at a different time. This means one of the partners may have already entered a new energy — while the other still remains in the previous one. There's nothing wrong with this. We simply take each person's current indicators at the present moment and add them.

A more detailed calculation of short periods — quarterly and monthly — is covered in the compatibility course. There you'll learn to work with the subtlest fluctuations in a relationship.

How to Read the Forecast

First we look at the individual energies of each partner — separately. What is he going through? What is she going through? What program is each one passing through right now?

Then we look at the shared energy of the couple. This is the field in which your union exists during this period.

Each energy has its own interpretation. The pluses show where the union can strengthen and where opportunities open. The minuses — where awareness is needed and where the risks lie.

And always — recommendations on how to bring everything into the plus.

Forecasting is a code. Knowing it, you stop being passengers in your own relationship. You become the ones who steer.

Quick Reference: What the Arcana Point To

Before we move to the detailed interpretations — here are some handy guides. If you see one of these arcana in the couple's forecast, pay attention to its theme.

Childbearing and children — arcana 3, 6, 10, 11, 17, 18, 20, 22. When these energies appear in the joint forecast, the theme of children often comes to the foreground — conception, birth, or special attention to children already present.

Marriage and making it official — arcana 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 17, 19, 20. These energies favor a relationship moving to the official level — engagement, wedding, the registry office, shared housing, a firm decision about the future.

Prosperity, career, and money — arcana 3, 4, 7, 11, 13, 15, 16, 19. These periods are favorable for financial breakthroughs, joint business, major investments, and reaching a new material level.

Relocations and changes of place — arcana 7, 10, 12, 16, 21, 22. These energies often bring a change of space into the couple's life — a relocation, a trip that changes everything, a new country, a new home.

Difficult periods requiring awareness — arcana 8, 9, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 18, 20. These energies carry trials and tests. They are not bad — they are transformative. But they must be passed through carefully and consciously, otherwise the minuses won't keep you waiting.

Remember: no arcana is a sentence. Even the most difficult period, lived through consciously, raises a couple to a new level. And the most favorable one — through carelessness — can be missed.

Arcana 1. The Magician. The Pioneer.

Only in the personal forecast — in the year of birth and at ages 20, 40, 60 (at 40 and 60 as the second energy).

This is one of the most powerful periods in a person's life. Everything you conceive has a chance to take form. Ideas find shape, plans come to life, doors open where before there was a dead end. This is a time of active movement forward. New knowledge, new contacts, new projects. The mind is literally tuned to absorb information — learn, soak it up, grow. Promotions, business launches, creative breakthroughs are all possible.

You are seen. You are heard. In this period you are able to inspire others — simply by your presence and your word.

What to watch for

The main trap of this period is overconfidence. A sense of superiority can turn into conflicts and a loss of authority. Watch your documents — mistakes and misunderstandings are possible. Control your thoughts — in this period they materialize with doubled force.

Recommendations

Set goals and write them down. Seek collaboration with professionals. Strengthen the body — especially the spine and the lower part. Practice meditation. Visit places of power. And work on your self-worth — this period manifests exactly as much as you believe in yourself.

Arcana 2. The High Priestess. Unity and Harmony.

In the personal forecast — in the year of birth, and at ages 10, 20, 40, and 60. In a couple's forecast it appears extremely rarely.

This is a period of silence and depth. A time when there's no need to storm and conquer — there's a need to listen. Listen to yourself, listen to life, trust what is happening.

Intuition sharpens to its limit in this period. Information that was long hidden may open to you.

Secrets surface, the concealed comes to light. Don't ask — just observe. The answers will come on their own.

This is a soft, spiritual period. A good time for learning, gathering information, developing inner abilities. Relationships with the mother and the women of the lineage come to the foreground — it's important to harmonize them. Joyful events connected with children are possible.

What to watch for

The main trap is trying to control everything with logic. It doesn't work here. Also dangerous are intrigues, gossip, participation in others' games. A third party may appear in the relationship — a woman who brings instability. Watch the information you pass on and receive.

Recommendations

Trust your intuition — in this period it is your main instrument. Record important promises in writing. Practice yoga, meditation, pranayama. Create a harmonious space around you. Watch your nutrition — more natural and plant-based. And remember — the world is not divided into black and white.

Arcana 3. The Empress. Fertility and Femininity.

One of the richest periods — both for the personal forecast and for the couple.

Personal forecast

This is a time when feminine energy comes to the foreground — in both partners, regardless of gender. Emotionality, intuition, creativity, beauty, the desire to surround yourself with comfort and fullness — all of this blossoms in this period.

The material sphere strengthens. Income, real estate purchases, career advancements are possible. Creative ideas come to life easily. The period is favorable for relationships — a romantic, courtship stage, conversations about continuing the family, attention from the opposite sex.

For a woman — this is the peak of femininity and desirability, a chance to marry, become a mother, gain a home and status.

For a man — a period when he naturally takes on the role of provider and is surrounded by women's attention.

The main trap is the loss of balance. A woman may slip into aggression and control, taking on masculine roles. A man may lose his masculinity, or on the contrary, slip into idleness. It's important to stay in your own nature.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

For women — manicures, spa, jewelry, time with friends, get-togethers, repairing broken jewelry. Mend the relationship with your mother. Delegate domestic tasks. For men — do something kind for the women of the lineage, voice your boundaries to your partner, take responsibility.

Couple's forecast

When the three appears in the joint forecast — it is one of the best periods for a relationship. The couple literally blossoms.

This is a time of closeness, tenderness, sensuality. The relationship is filled with warmth — you want to create coziness, spend time together, spoil one another. The question of children may arise on its own — or the couple will begin to give special attention to the children they already have. Financially the union strengthens — money comes in, joint purchases are possible, investments in real estate, shared creative or business projects.

This is a period when the relationship can move to a new level — official registration, shared housing, conversations about family.

What to watch for in the couple

The risk — if one of the partners slips into hysteria, control, or on the contrary into irresponsibility — the energy of the three begins to work against them. Betrayals, jealousy, problems with conception are possible.

It's important that each stays in their own nature — and gives space to the other.

Recommendations for the couple

Create beauty together — shared dinners, travel, decorating your common space. Talk about desires and dreams. Give time to the body — massage, the pool, shared rest. Support the femininity of the female partner — and the masculinity of the male partner. Don't take on the role of the other — that is the main condition for passing through this period harmoniously.

Arcana 4. The Emperor. Power and Responsibility.

Personal forecast

This is a powerful period of masculine energy — in both partners regardless of gender.

Persistence, decisiveness, organization, logic, active action. A period when you can and should take on responsibility — and get results for it.

Career advancements, opening a business, promotions, new positions — all of this becomes real precisely now. Government matters and documents are resolved successfully. Rewards arrive for past investments.

For a man — one of the best periods for strengthening himself as a leader, provider, father. A very money-rich energy. It's important not to miss the moment and to act.

For a woman — a fateful meeting with a man or the patronage of an influential man is possible.

But it's important to make sure you don't slip into masculine roles — otherwise the energy will start to press on the relationship.

The main trap for a woman is taking on too many masculine duties and crushing her partner with authority. The main trap for a man is slipping into rebellion or passivity when responsibility is needed.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

For women — be softer, accept the man, learn to ask rather than do it all yourself. Work through the relationship with the father. Wear feminine clothing.

For men — take responsibility consciously, set goals in writing, give time to family and not only to career. Work through the relationship with the mother.

Couple's forecast

When the four appears in the joint forecast — it is a period when the relationship demands clarity and structure. Chaos and uncertainty don't work here. The couple must agree — who is responsible for what, how the roles are arranged, where the union is heading.

This is a very favorable period for joint financial decisions — opening a business together, major purchases, real estate investments. Everything that requires responsibility and long-term planning — do it precisely now.

Stability arrives in the relationship. The couple makes firm decisions about the future — official registration, joint plans, the delineation of responsibility zones.

A case from my practice. Anna and Victor came to me — constant quarrels over who pays, who decides, whose word is final. In the couple's shared forecast stood the four — the energy of power and structure. But I also looked at their personal energies. That year Victor had the seven — the energy of a breakthrough and achievement; he was racing forward, wanting to decide everything himself. And Anna had the three — feminine energy; she wanted warmth, care, to feel like a woman beside a strong man. Hence the conflict: his seven raced ahead like a tank, while the shared four demanded a clear division of roles. I explained: let Victor direct his seven toward finances and big decisions, and Anna in her three create the home and the atmosphere. They did exactly that — and for the first time in years they stopped warring. Each energy fell into its place.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk of this period is a power struggle within the union. If both pull the blanket toward themselves, both want to be right and in charge — conflicts begin, pressure, and betrayal or rupture become possible.

Also dangerous is a tilt in the other direction — when one takes everything on and the other slips into passivity. This breeds resentment and exhaustion.

Unfinished conflicts and old grudges especially interfere in this period. Everything that wasn't spoken — surfaces.

Recommendations for the couple

Clearly distribute the zones of responsibility — and respect the other's zone. Don't interfere where you're not asked. Set joint goals in writing. Give more time to one another outside of work — cultural leisure, going out together. For the man — show up as a leader in the family. For the woman — inspire rather than compete. It is precisely in this balance that the four unfolds into the positive

Arcana 5. The Hierophant. Student and Teacher. Family.

Personal forecast

This is a period when family, traditions, and the transmission of knowledge come to the foreground. Everything connected with the lineage, with roots, with relationships between generations — becomes especially important.

The period is favorable for learning and spiritual growth. A mentor may appear on your path — someone ready to pass on knowledge and experience. Or, on the contrary — you yourself become a teacher for someone. In this period it's important not only to accumulate knowledge but to pass it on.

Official matters are resolved successfully. A good time for processing documents, entering into marriage, legal questions. Career advancement is possible through authority and the respect of those around you.

The main trap is living someone else's life instead of your own. Clinging too much to relatives, putting yourself in the victim position, lecturing those who didn't ask. Also dangerous are false teachers and spiritual intoxication.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Put things in order — literally and figuratively. Systematize documents, keep a routine, respect others' time. Create family traditions. Accept your father — this is the key work of the period. Learn — and immediately pass the knowledge on.

Couple's forecast

When the five appears in the joint forecast — it is a period when the relationship rises to the level of family and lineage. The couple stops being just two people side by side — it becomes a cell with traditions, responsibility, and meaning.

This is one of the best times for the official registration of a relationship. The registry office, a wedding, shared housing — all of this receives the support of this energy. An expansion of the family is possible — the birth of a child or heightened attention to children already present.

The relationship develops quickly and genuinely. Meeting — marriage — children — it can all spin into motion swiftly and yet correctly.

This is also a period when the couple may encounter the influence of parents and lineage.

Someone's traditions, someone's rules, someone's opinion about how things should be — all of this comes to the surface. It's important to build healthy boundaries with both families.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk is lecturing and attempts to remake the partner. One begins to teach the other how to live correctly — and the relationship turns into a lesson no one asked for. Also dangerous are conflicts around family values — when partners have different ideas about what matters in a family. Problems with the father in one of the partners can strongly affect the relationship in this period. This is worth working through.

Recommendations for the couple

Create your own traditions — the ones that belong only to your couple. Don't let parents and lineage dictate how to build your family. Respect the other's path — show by example rather than words. Give time to children together. And mend the relationship with the fathers — your own and your partner's. This will open the energy of the period to its full force.

Arcana 6. The Lovers. Relationships, Choice, and Unconditional Love.

Personal forecast

One of the most beautiful and vivid periods in life. Much celebration, laughter, heartfelt conversations, pleasant meetings. Everything connected with beauty, love, and harmony — blossoms.

This is a time of new relationships — not only romantic but also business. For those already in a couple — a wonderful moment for deepening closeness or planning a child. The single may meet a great love.

A period of right choice — but precisely from the heart, not from the head. Work that isn't to your liking will drain you. Only what you love — will give results.

Communications blossom. Much interaction, new contacts, friends. Hobbies may grow into a profession. Creative projects launch easily and joyfully.

The main trap is living by someone else's script, pleasing everyone, losing yourself. Also dangerous are betrayals, love triangles, betrayals by friends. All of this is given to teach you to distinguish the real from the unreal.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Speak of love — aloud, to loved ones and to yourself. Tend to your appearance and body. Give gifts without expectations. Open the heart through metta meditation. When choosing — listen to the body, not logic. Watch your heart — in the literal sense.

Couple's forecast

When the six appears in the joint forecast — it is one of the most favorable periods for any relationship. The couple literally bathes in love — tenderness, attention, closeness, passion. This is a time when you want to be together, create beauty, delight in life side by side.

Weddings, official registration, romantic travels are possible. Joint creative projects launch easily. Business partnership in this period can also give excellent results.

This is a period when the couple makes an important choice — conscious, from love rather than fear. Those who long postponed a decision — finally make it.

Communication becomes deeper and warmer. Many heartfelt conversations, shared rest, pleasures — theaters, restaurants, travels, pleasant meetings with friends.

A case from my practice. Sofia and Mark had been through a hard year — they drifted apart, almost stopped having heartfelt conversations. In the couple's shared forecast appeared the six — the energy of love and choice. But the personal energies explained everything. Mark had the eight — a period of balance and rethinking; he had withdrawn into himself, feeling he was investing more. And Sofia had the nine — she craved silence and depth, and had also stepped back. Two people each went into their own energy — while the shared six above them was literally pleading: return to each other. I explained this to them. They started small — dates, heart-to-heart talks, gifts for no reason. The six filled up — and Mark made the proposal he had been postponing for years.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk of this period is betrayals and love triangles. The six tempts — and if there's unspokenness in the relationship, a lack of attention or closeness, there's a high chance someone will start looking for it on the side.

Also dangerous are situations when one of the partners doesn't speak of their needs — stays silent, withdraws, accumulates grudges. Openness is needed here.

The interference of third parties — friends, relatives — is also characteristic of this period. It's important not to let others' opinions influence the choice within the couple.

Recommendations for the couple

Tell each other about your love — often, specifically, aloud. Give gifts for no reason. Create beauty together — refresh your home space, travel, go to exhibitions and concerts. Speak openly about your desires and needs — don't expect your partner to guess. Make choices together — from the heart, not from logic. And remember — in this period love literally materializes. Everything you invest in the relationship — returns many times over.

Arcana 7. The Chariot. Movement and Victory.

Personal forecast

This is a period of true breakthrough. A time when you're like a tank — decisive, driving, seeing no obstacles. Everything that once seemed impossible — becomes achievable precisely now.

Career victories, opening a business, launching projects, promotions — all of this is supported by the energy of the period. Travel, relocations, getting a license, sports are favorable. The energy of a winner accompanies you.

In relationships — an active sexual life, marriage is possible.

The main trap is walking over others, ignoring people in the pursuit of a goal. Or on the contrary — falling into passivity and missing the powerful potential of the period. A lack of movement in this period literally strikes at health and finances.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Set goals in writing and break them into small steps. Do sports — it transforms aggression into creation. Rejoice in every victory — big and small. Work with your combativeness — don't press it onto others, channel it into action. The faster you move — the faster the answers come.

Couple's forecast

When the seven appears in the joint forecast — it is a period of movement and shared achievements. A couple that knows how to move as a team — in this period is capable of much. Joint projects, business, relocations, travels — all of this receives powerful support.

The relationship is saturated — much activity, events, shared victories. This is not a period of a quiet harbor — it is a period of the road, shoulder to shoulder. And it is precisely this movement that bonds the couple.

Relocations and travels together are especially favorable. New places, new impressions, shared adventures — all of this strengthens the union and adds freshness.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk — both pull in different directions. Each moves toward their own goal and stops noticing the partner. Or one races ahead while the other stands still — and this breeds irritation and distancing.

Also dangerous is the aggression that accumulates in this period — if not released into sports and action, it goes into the relationship. Conflicts, quarrels, competition within the couple — all of this is the minus of the period.

Love triangles are also possible — especially if one of the partners goes fully into career and forgets about the relationship.

Recommendations for the couple

a common goal — the one you move toward together. Travel — without fail. Do sports together or each on their own — this is critically important for this period. Agree on roles — who is responsible for what in moving forward. Praise each other for victories — even small ones. And don't forget to stop and simply be together — without goals and plans.

Arcana 8. Justice. Fairness and Balance.

Personal forecast

This is a period of cause and effect. What you sowed before — you reap now. If you acted honestly and wisely — a karmic reward arrives. If not — the bill comes due.

A period of balance in everything — work and rest, labor and recovery, giving and receiving. A time of logic and reason rather than emotions. A good moment for rethinking — to stop, look at where you came from and where you're going.

The legal sphere is especially active. Documents, contracts, real estate deals, the official registration of marriage — all of this goes through successfully if you act honestly. Court cases, interaction with state structures — are also characteristic of this period.

The main trap is waging war for justice. Fighting against injustice, going to court, accusing. It is precisely this that leads to the minus. Also dangerous are imbalance, burnout, deception, and breaking promises.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Maintain balance in all spheres of life — use the wheel of life balance. Be punctual. Don't take loans and don't lend money. Control expenses. Keep promises — even those made to yourself. Take the position of an observer rather than a judge. Sow good freely — it will return.

Couple's forecast

When the eight appears in the joint forecast — it is a period when the relationship undergoes a test of honesty and balance. Everything that was unequal, unfair, left unsaid — comes to the surface. This is not destruction — it is purification.

If there was balance in the couple — the period strengthens the union. Karmic rewards arrive for the labor invested in the relationship. Official registration, important joint documents, major deals are possible.

This is also a time when the couple rethinks its principles — how we interact, who is responsible for what, whether we treat each other honestly. Such a conversation in this period is especially valuable.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk is imbalance in the relationship. One invests significantly more than the other — and this becomes unbearable. Or the grudges accumulated over past injustices finally break through. Court and legal questions may touch the couple — division of property, inheritance, documents. It's important to act honestly and without manipulation.

Unfaithfulness in love and divorce — are possible events of the minus scenario. Especially if imbalance accumulated in the couple for a long time and no one dared to speak about it openly.

Recommendations for the couple

Talk honestly — who invests how much and what they receive. Not from accusation — from the desire to even out the balance. Keep the promises made to each other — even small ones. Don't deceive — in anything. Resolve joint legal and financial matters now — the period is favorable. And remember — everything you sow into the relationship in this period will return to you in the next cycle. Sow care and honesty.

Arcana 9. The Hermit. Wisdom and the Inner Path.

Personal forecast

This is a quiet period. Without sharp swings, without storming and conquering. A time when life invites you inward — to yourself, to your thoughts, to your depth.

Spiritual discoveries, creative unfolding, the search for like-minded people and mentors — all of this is characteristic of the nine. A good time for learning, retreats, work with a psychologist or coach. For women the period may mean pregnancy.

The desire to be alone — is normal and necessary. This is not depression, it is replenishment. It's only important to return from solitude in time and not lose connection with loved ones.

The main trap is slipping into pride, judging others, closing off from people entirely. Or on the contrary — fearing solitude and not giving yourself the silence you need.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Spend time in nature — it is the best medicine of the period. Shift from the head into the body — bodily practices, massage, floating. Share wisdom through experience rather than through preaching. Listen to insights — they don't come by chance. Practice grounding. Speak of feelings aloud through "I" statements.

Couple's forecast

When the nine appears in the joint forecast — it is a period when the couple needs depth, not activity. Not events — but meanings. Not new impressions — but a real conversation about what matters.

This is a time when the couple can truly come to know each other. Not at parties and on travels — but in silence, in conversations about life, in a shared search for truth.

Spiritual growth together is a very powerful resource of this period. Joint practices, retreats, learning, reading, meditations — all of this brings the couple closer on a level that isn't reached through ordinary daily life.

It's possible each partner will need their own space and time for solitude. This is normal and doesn't mean cooling. On the contrary — a partner who has replenished in solitude returns to the relationship alive and real.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk is the cooling of feelings. The nine can give a sense of detachment — and if the partner doesn't understand the nature of this period, they perceive the distance as indifference. Grudges and misunderstanding begin.

Also dangerous is jealousy out of nowhere — when one withdraws into themselves and the other begins to suspect. Loneliness within the couple and divorce — are possible events of the minus.

It's important to agree that each one's solitude is not a rejection of the union. It is self-care for the sake of the quality of the relationship.

Recommendations for the couple

Give each other space — without grudges and suspicions. Create a tradition of deep conversations — not about daily life, but about life, meanings, dreams. Practice something spiritual together. Spend time in nature — together and each separately. Listen to your partner's body, not only their words. And remember — silence together is also closeness. Sometimes the deepest.

Arcana 10. The Wheel of Fortune. Flow and Luck.

Personal forecast

One of the luckiest periods. Fortune turns its face toward you — and if you are relaxed and open, life itself carries you in the right direction. There's no need to force and push — there's a need to trust.

Unexpected winnings, large profit, the right people who appear at the right moment, doors that open on their own — all of this is real in the period of the ten. This is a karmic reward for past efforts. A kind of vacation for the soul.

Fateful turns and important events — are characteristic of this period. Life changes rapidly. The main thing — not to cling to the old and not to miss new chances.

In the sphere of love — both serious meetings and light infatuations are possible.

The main trap is passivity and the inability to see signs. Luck comes — but if you don't notice it and don't act, it goes to another. It's also dangerous to fall into a negative flow through your surroundings.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Practice gratitude daily — aloud, in writing, or to yourself. Be grateful for everything including failures. Learn to listen to the body when choosing. Choose positive people around you. Be attentive to signs and opportunities — they flash by quickly. Tell yourself: what's mine will be mine.

Couple's forecast

When the ten appears in the joint forecast — it is one of the most favorable periods for the union. Life tosses the couple gifts — sometimes completely unexpected. Joint travels, financial breakthroughs, happy coincidences — all of this is real.

This is a period when the relationship can rise to a completely new level — quickly and naturally. Without effort and struggle. Simply because the time has come.

Important events can happen rapidly — a relocation, a new shared opportunity, the unexpected resolution of a long-hanging question. A couple that knows how to trust the flow — gets the maximum from this period.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk — the lightness the period gives can turn into frivolity. One of the partners may get carried away with someone on the side — precisely because everything happens easily and without consequences. This temptation is real.

Also if the couple's karma is negative — the period may bring an unfavorable turn. Losses, forced changes, karmic punishment.

Rapid changes can frighten — especially if one of the partners loves stability. It's important to agree on how you relate to change and to support each other in moments when everything shifts quickly.

Recommendations for the couple

Trust the flow together — don't resist changes if they come. Practice shared gratitude — for the good and for the difficult. Use the opportunities that appear — don't postpone. Guard the union from light temptations. And remember — in this period life itself leads you where you need to go. The main thing is not to get in its way.

Arcana 11. Strength and Potential.

Personal forecast

This is one of the most powerful periods. A double energy — as if a second wind opens. Everything you planned, dreamed of, postponed — now comes to life. A period for active action; passivity here literally costs dearly.

Career successes, the launch of major projects, the creation of organizations and movements — all of this is possible. Physical endurance is at its peak. An excellent period for sports, for challenging yourself, for changing habits and developing willpower.

A period of trials — of strength, of passion, of the ability to overcome. But you have everything you need to cope and emerge victorious.

Sexual activity is high. Pregnancy is possible — double strength literally means two people.

The main trap is suppressing others with an excess of energy, slipping into aggression, working yourself to exhaustion. If the energy isn't released — it stagnates and strikes at health.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Sports are mandatory — especially in the second half of the day. Alternate activity and rest — like in a workout: tense, relax. Control aggression and the volume of your voice. Set long-term goals and praise yourself for every item crossed off. For women — develop femininity rather than stopping a galloping horse.

Couple's forecast

When the eleven appears in the joint forecast — it is a period of enormous energy within the union. The couple is literally charged — passion, activity, shared accomplishments. This is a time when together you can move mountains.

The sexual life is at its peak — vivid, saturated. Pregnancy is possible. Joint projects, business, sports — all of this receives a powerful impulse.

The relationship undergoes a test of strength — and it is precisely this test that strengthens the union. A couple that overcomes difficulties together in this period — becomes significantly stronger.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk — the excess of energy goes into conflicts. Both are charged, both strong, both want it their own way — and a struggle begins. Aggression, pressure, attempts to suppress the partner with one's strength.

Also dangerous is the workaholicism of one of the partners — when all the energy goes into career and nothing is left for the relationship.

Problems in the sexual life arise precisely when energy is suppressed or goes in the wrong direction.

Recommendations for the couple

Do sports — together or each on their own. This is critically important for this period. Channel the strength into joint projects rather than against each other. Make sure both rest — fatigue in this period breeds aggression. Speak of passions and desires openly. Support each other in trials — precisely now this is especially important. And remember — the strength within both of you is made for creation, not destruction.

Arcana 12. The Hanged Man. Service and a Different Vision.

Personal forecast

Life may turn 180 degrees — literally like the person on the card. And if you look at this not with panic but with interest — you can see what was previously invisible. New solutions, new angles of view, unexpected ways out of long-standing dead ends.

This is a period of a different vision. Slow, at times requiring waiting and patience. Something may leave — but in the freed space, something better will surely come. The task is to see new possibilities in what seems like a loss.

The desire to serve others, take part in charity, be useful — is characteristic of this period. The main thing is to distinguish service from love and servility from fear or pressure.

The period is filled with creativity — any creative projects, courses, practices receive support.

The main trap is slipping into victimhood. Doing something against yourself, allowing yourself to be used, rescuing those who didn't ask. Also dangerous are indecision and fear of change.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Don't sacrifice yourself — neither in work nor in relationships. Learn to say no. Before helping — ask whether help is needed. Give yourself gifts and praise yourself. Accept compliments without deflecting. Engage in creativity. Help from fullness rather than from your last reserves.

Couple's forecast

When the twelve appears in the joint forecast — it is a period when the relationship invites you to look at it from a different angle. Something in the couple turns over — and this can be both a rise to a new level and a serious trial.

The period is favorable for spiritual closeness — joint charity, creativity, helping others. A couple that does something meaningful together — strengthens precisely through this.

A necessary sacrifice for the sake of future good is possible. Something needs to be released — a habit, a script, a grudge — so that space opens for the new.

A case from my practice. Elena and Pavel came to me in a strange state — the union seemed to hang suspended, with no clarity about where it was heading. In the couple's shared forecast stood the twelve — the energy of pause and a different vision. The personal energies added color. Elena had the nine — she was drawn inward, toward meaning, toward something greater than daily life. And Pavel had the fourteen — the energy of slow ripening; he didn't want abrupt moves, he needed time. From the outside it looked like stagnation. In reality both were ripening for something new. I suggested they find a shared cause of service — and they began volunteering together at an animal shelter. The twelve unfolded through service, Elena's nine found meaning, and Pavel's fourteen let everything mature at the right pace.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk is self-sacrifice. One of the partners begins to sacrifice themselves for the other — and accumulates hidden discontent. Or both get stuck in the victim position and wait for the other to change something.

The period may bring a feeling of suspension in the relationship — it's unclear where the union is heading, there's no clarity and certainty. This frightens. But it is precisely in this pause that a new understanding is born.

Divorce or the relationship's rise to a fundamentally new level — both options are real depending on how the couple lives through this period.

Recommendations for the couple

Look at the relationship with fresh eyes — as if seeing it for the first time. What's good in it that you've stopped noticing? What needs to be released for things to get better? Do something meaningful together — charity, a creative project, helping loved ones. Don't rescue each other without a request — ask whether help is needed. Endure the pause together — don't destroy what is ripening. And remember — what is leaving now frees space for something better.

Arcana 13. Death. Transformation and Rebirth.

Personal forecast

This is one of the most powerful periods of transformation. Life may divide into before and after. Something will end — and that ending will open a completely new cycle. At the end of the period you will feel yourself a different person.

Relocations, a change of profession, radical changes in lifestyle, the birth of a child as a transition to a new level — all of this is characteristic of the thirteen. Even your style of clothing, circle of contacts, way of thinking — may change completely.

In the positive, all changes happen harmoniously — as if everything had been leading to this. Old relationships may be revived, gain a second wind.

The main trap is clinging to the old. Whoever holds onto the past — receives destruction without the new. Whoever lets go consciously — receives a qualitatively new life.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Go toward conscious changes — this is the only way to channel this energy into the positive.

Declutter your home and gadgets. Close unfinished matters — take inventory and cross off the irrelevant. Arrange a detox for body and mind. Start a renovation or change your image. Quit bad habits — now is the very time.

Couple's forecast

When the thirteen appears in the joint forecast — it is a period of radical transformation of the relationship. The union changes — deeply, seriously, irreversibly. And this can be both a powerful renewal and an ending.

A couple that is ready to change together — rises to a fundamentally new level of closeness. Old patterns are destroyed — and in their place something truly alive is built. This may look like a crisis — but behind it stands a rebirth.

Serious joint decisions are possible — relocation, a change of lifestyle, a new joint project, the birth of a child. Everything that once seemed impossible — suddenly becomes real. Old relationships that seemed faded — may gain a second wind precisely in this period.

A case from my practice. Marina and Igor had lived together for twelve years and were on the edge — everything had become gray, mechanical, dead. In the couple's shared forecast stood the thirteen — the energy of the death of the old and rebirth. And the personal energies led the same way. Igor had the sixteen — the Tower; everything familiar was collapsing inside him. And Marina had the twenty-one — the energy of completing a cycle and stepping into a new world. Three energies of change at once. Many in their place would simply have divorced, deciding love had died. But I explained: the thirteen is not always an end. It is the death of the old for the sake of the new — but only if you go toward the change consciously and together. They took a radical step — sold their apartment, moved to another city, changed everything. The old couple “died” — and in its place a new one was born. A year later they told me they felt as if they had fallen in love all over again.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk — if one wants to change and the other clings to the old. This breeds powerful tension and can lead to rupture. Divorce in this period — is one of the possible events. Sometimes it's a plus — leaving what has long stopped working.

Also dangerous are chaos, aggression, spontaneous uncontrolled changes. Everything that happens unconsciously — storms hard.

Recommendations for the couple

Agree — are you both ready to change? If yes — go toward changes consciously and together. Discuss what needs to be released in the relationship — habits, grudges, outdated roles. Declutter your shared space — literally. Arrange a joint detox — from information noise, from toxic surroundings, from everything that pulls back. And remember — transformation is not the end. It is a rebirth. And what is born afterward — is better than what was.

Arcana 14. Temperance. Soul and Creativity.

Personal forecast

This is a period of maturity and depth. Not speed — but quality. Not storming — but ripening. Everything happens at its own pace, and it's practically impossible to influence that pace. The task is to trust and observe.

The period gives exactly as much as needed — no more and no less. Creativity, self-knowledge, self-development — all of this blossoms. Through art, a potential is revealed that later bears fruit in business and relationships.

Moderation in everything — is the key word of the period. Don't be greedy, don't rush, don't chase the excessive. Do everything slowly and well.

The main trap is extremes. Excessive consumption — of food, alcohol, entertainment. Or on the contrary — apathy and depression. It's important to keep yourself in tone and not slide into the minus.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Go to museums, theaters, concerts. Engage in creativity in any form — it is the main resource of the period. Work with water — a conscious shower, baths with salt, bathing in springs. Practice asceticism — a conscious refusal of something in the name of something greater. Work with a psychologist if there are inner torments. Lead a healthy lifestyle. Take photographs — that too is creativity.

Couple's forecast

When the fourteen appears in the joint forecast — it is a period of calm and faithful growth of the relationship. Not explosive — but gradual. The union ripens like good wine — slowly but correctly. This is a time when the couple can truly immerse themselves in creativity together. Joint cultural outings, creating something beautiful, travels with spiritual meaning — all of this fills the union with a special depth.

Peace in the home — is one of the main blessings of this period. Stability, equilibrium, faithfulness — are characteristic of the fourteen in a couple's forecast.

The relationship becomes more mature. The couple learns not to rush events — but to trust their natural development. And it is precisely in this trust that real closeness is born.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk is frayed nerves and delays that begin to irritate. One wants it faster — the other says wait. Conflicts over a difference in pace.

Also dangerous are addictions — alcohol, overeating, any extremes — which can disturb the equilibrium in the couple.

An unsuccessful partnership and conflicts — are events of the minus scenario when both don't know how to find balance between desires and reality.

Recommendations for the couple

Go to theaters, museums, exhibitions together — feed the soul with beauty. Create something together — let it be even a small joint creative project. Practice joint water procedures — a sauna, spa, bathing. Slow down — don't rush events in the relationship. Be grateful to each other for what is right now. And maintain moderation in everything — in demands, in expectations, in passions. It is precisely in this moderation — that the depth and longevity of the union lie.

Arcana 15. The Devil. Manifestation and Earthly Pleasures.

Personal forecast

One of the most vivid and tempting periods. Money, power, passion, fame — all of it literally falls into your hands. What once required persistent labor — now comes on its own. Life is in full swing, there are many events, the sense that anything is possible.

Active manifestation of personality, strong infatuations, passionate romances, admirers — are characteristic of the fifteen. A period of earthly pleasures — delicious food, beautiful clothing, luxurious surroundings.

This is precisely where the lesson lies — to hold back from excess. An easy victory and a sense of permissiveness can swallow you up and exalt you above others. And after that — a loud, sobering fall.

The main trap is giving in to all the vices. Alcohol, addictions, manipulations, fraud, a dissolute lifestyle. All of it is available — and that is exactly why it's especially dangerous.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Know moderation — that's the main thing. Practice asceticism and detox — for body, mind, and soul. Work with the shadow sides of the personality. Convert sexual energy into creative energy. Reveal passion through the beauty of life — in every moment. Arrange photoshoots. Having overcome the temptations of this period — you rise to a new level.

Couple's forecast

When the fifteen appears in the joint forecast — it is one of the most sexually charged and passionate periods for the union. The attraction between partners is at its maximum. Energy is bubbling — and it can be directed into the most varied spheres.

A financial breakthrough for the couple — is very possible. Large purchases, a successful business, gaining power and influence — all of it is real with a conscious living-through of the period.

A couple that knows how to channel this powerful energy into creation — gets the maximum from the period. Vivid joint projects, travels, creativity — all of this fills the union with passion and meaning at once.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk is betrayals and passionate affairs on the side. The fifteen tempts — and if there's a lack of passion or closeness in the couple, one of the partners may find it outside the union.

Also dangerous are addictions that destroy the relationship — alcohol, gambling, destructive habits. Intrigues, manipulations, attempts to control the partner through money or sex — all of these are characteristic risks of the minus scenario.

Destructive bonds and self-destruction — are possible if both gave in to the dark side of this period.

Recommendations for the couple

Channel the passion into the relationship — literally. Give time to intimate life, beauty, pleasures together. Arrange a joint detox — from everything excessive. Each work with their shadow sides — and speak honestly about temptations without staying silent. Reveal sexuality through creativity — photoshoots together, beautiful evenings, passionate moments. And remember — the power of this period is enormous. The only question is where it's directed — toward destruction or toward creating something truly vivid.

Arcana 16. The Tower. Spiritual Awakening.

Personal forecast

This is a period of the destruction of the old for the birth of the new. The Tower doesn't punish — it frees. Everything that was held up by false foundations — collapses. And this gives the chance to build anew — better, stronger, on a real foundation.

A period of building in the literal and figurative sense. Renovation, a change of housing, operations long postponed, radical changes of lifestyle — all of this is activated. Career growth, the resolution of bureaucratic matters, the purchase of real estate — are possible with a conscious living-through. You will feel strength of spirit, insights, heightened awareness. False beliefs leave — a new understanding of life arrives.

The main trap is holding onto the old when it is already collapsing. The tighter you cling — the harsher the blow. To accept changes flexibly and consciously — is the only way to pass through the period gently.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Declutter — literally and in everything. Change the space around you — the more global the better. Work with inner aggression. Practice gratitude and deep forgiveness. A detox of body, mind, and soul — is mandatory. Be more careful on the roads. Act for the good of others — this is the main principle of the period.

Couple's forecast

When the sixteen appears in the joint forecast — it is a period when the relationship passes through a serious trial. What was unreal — will collapse. What was on a solid foundation — will hold and strengthen.

This can be a turning point in the union. A crisis that changes everything. But it is precisely through this crisis that the couple rises to a qualitatively new level — if both are ready to change.

A joint relocation, the start of living together, a radical change of lifestyle together — are possible positive events. A couple that builds something new together — gets a powerful impulse from this period.

The spiritual awakening that each one experiences — can lead to a deep rethinking of the relationship. This is not frightening. It is necessary.

A case from my practice. Olga and Sergey went through a real storm that year. In the couple's shared forecast stood the sixteen — the Tower. But I always look at the personal energies of each as well. Sergey had the thirteen in his personal forecast — the energy of collapse and transformation, and indeed: he suddenly lost his job, everything came crashing down. And Olga, in the same period, had the twenty — the energy of lineage and rethinking; she was searching for a new path. Add it up: his personal collapse, her inner search, and the shared Tower of the couple on top. Most would have decided this was the end. But I explained — the Tower destroys only what stood on sand. Sergey, living through his thirteen, didn't cling to the old but was reborn — he opened his own business. Olga, through her twenty, supported him as a pillar of the lineage. Three energies converged — and instead of collapse they gave a powerful breakthrough. A year and a half later they were stronger and wealthier than ever.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk is divorce and rupture if the couple held together out of fear or habit rather than love. The Tower bares the truth — and if the truth is that the union has long been dead, the period will show it.

Also dangerous are crises that strike the couple from outside — financial losses, real estate problems, accidents, illnesses. All of this can create enormous pressure on the relationship. Aggression and mutual accusations in a difficult moment — are a characteristic minus of this period.

Recommendations for the couple

Don't fight the changes — accept them together. Declutter as a couple — from grudges, old grievances, outdated agreements. Renew your space — do a renovation or at least rearrange things together. Practice forgiveness — of each other and yourselves. Act for the good of each other and those around you. And remember — everything that collapses in this period collapses because it no longer served you. On the ruins, something better is built.

Arcana 17. The Star.

Personal forecast

This is the time to step onto the stage. To declare yourself. To shine — in your profession, in creativity, in life. Whoever hasn't yet found themselves — will find it precisely now. Whoever is already on their path — will get vivid results and recognition.

Intuition in this period is especially strong — it leads to fateful events and the right people. It's important to hear the quiet voice of the soul and follow it.

Creativity of any kind blossoms — knitting, photography, video, design, music. Social media, public events, going out among people — all of this receives powerful support. A meeting with a very significant person is possible. Romantic, warm relationships — are highly likely.

The main trap is a burned-out star. Hiding, slipping into gloom, fearing being in view. Or on the contrary — a star complex and vanity.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Change your image — dare to do what you've long dreamed of. Try yourself at what once didn't work out. Write down what set you alight in childhood — and start doing it. Visualize the desired reality in detail. Control ambitions — in both directions. Shine — that is your task for the period.

Couple's forecast

When the seventeen appears in the joint forecast — it is a period when the couple comes into the light. Becomes noticeable — both to themselves and to the world around them.

This is a time when the union inspires others. A couple that shines together — attracts opportunities, people, events. Joint creativity, public projects, going onto social media together — all of this strengthens both the relationship and self-realization.

Romance and beauty within the union — are on the rise. The couple seems to fall in love again.

Warm, touching moments, beautiful gestures, attention to one another — all of this is characteristic of the period.

Important joint events are possible — marriage, travels, new acquaintances that change the couple's life.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk — one of the partners withdraws into themselves and dims the light. The gloom, insecurity, passivity of one drags the other down too. Or on the contrary — one starts to shine too brightly on their own and the couple loses their shared space.

Envy between partners — an unexpected but real risk of this period. If one realizes themselves more brightly — the other may feel themselves in the shadow.

Betrayal by friends and loss of faith — are possible events of the minus that can strike the couple from outside.

Recommendations for the couple

Shine together — find what you both can do publicly and with joy. Support each other's self-realization — rejoice in your partner's successes as your own. Refresh your appearance — together or each in their own way. Go to events, go out among people. Visualize your shared desired life — in detail, together. And remember — a star shines brighter when beside it is someone who believes in its light.

Arcana 18. The Moon. The Hidden and the Lunar.

Personal forecast

This is a period of the subconscious, intuition, and illusions. The path isn't always clearly visible — but it is felt. You will sense that something is happening behind the scenes, that someone is dishonest, that there is something concealed. Logic will resist — but the subconscious knows the truth.

The period is full of doubts and ebbs and flows. This is normal. The task is not to fight it but to listen to yourself more attentively than usual.

Spiritual work with the subconscious — is a priority. Psychology, astrology, numerology, work with fears and illusions — all of this gives a powerful result precisely now. Creative self-expression blossoms — theater, cinema, fashion, art.

Everything you imbue with vivid emotions — materializes. That's why the choice of thoughts in this period is critically important. Fears come true just as well as dreams. The main trap is negative thoughts, gossip, depressive surroundings, illusions that lead away from reality.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Follow the lunar calendar — in this period the moon influences you especially strongly. Make contact with water — the sea, the pool, baths with salt. Work through fears. Avoid envious and depressive people. Sort your thoughts — throw out the negative ones without regret. Do practices in the second half of the day by candlelight.

Couple's forecast

When the eighteen appears in the joint forecast — it is a period when everything hidden in the relationship comes to the surface. Secrets, unspokenness, illusions that held the couple together — all of it manifests.

This can be frightening — but it is precisely this that purifies the union. A couple ready for an honest conversation about what's happening at the depths — comes out of this period significantly closer and more real.

The theme of home, family, children comes to the foreground. The birth of a child, closer contact with parents — are possible events of the period. Joint creativity, art, spiritual practices together — strengthen the union.

Romantic acquaintances are possible for those who are searching — the moon attracts beautiful meetings.

A case from my practice. Yana and Anton came with the feeling that a wall had risen between them. Yana suspected Anton was hiding something. In the couple's shared forecast stood the eighteen — the Moon, the energy of the hidden and concealed. The personal energies explained the anxiety. Anton had the eight — he was rethinking his contribution, silently worrying about money and afraid of seeming weak. And Yana had the eighteen in her personal forecast too — her intuition and anxiety were at their peak, she was imagining things that weren't there. The Moon thickened the fog on both sides. I explained: the only way out is an honest conversation. They talked it all through. There had been no betrayal — only fears and illusions. The eighteen could have destroyed them through suspicion, but through honesty it brought them closer.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk is deception and illusions. One of the partners may see in the other not who they are — but who they want to see. Or hide something important. The period bares this.

Also dangerous are intrigues and the interference of women from outside — friends, mothers, exes — all of them can influence the couple especially actively in this period.

Gossip, envy, witchcraft — are characteristic risks of the minus scenario. It sounds mystical — but energetic vulnerability in this period is real.

Recommendations for the couple

Be honest with each other — especially about fears and doubts. Don't accumulate suspicions — speak of them. Practice joint contact with water — a trip to the sea, a sauna together, baths. Follow the lunar cycles and plan important conversations for the waxing moon. Protect your union from others' opinions and influences. Visualize your shared happy life — with vivid positive emotions. And trust each other's intuition — in this period it speaks the truth.

Arcana 19. The Sun. Light and Joy.

Personal forecast

One of the best periods in life. You literally shine — and everyone around feels it. Respect, recognition, new useful connections, career heights, material abundance — all of it comes in the period of the nineteen.

Much that was hidden — becomes clear. You finally feel the joy of life at full strength. Dream to the maximum and realize yourself fully — that is literally the task of the period.

The birth of children, the appearance of new relatives, time spent with children — are characteristic themes. For women a vivid new romance is possible. Marriage — is very favorable.

The main trap — in the minus, the sun not only warms but burns. Self-flagellation, fixation on the negative, sharp words that wound loved ones — all of this turns the energy against you.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Do practices in the first half of the day. Early rising and morning activity — are a priority. Declutter from everything outlived. Engage in charity from a pure heart. Work through the fear of poverty — write out negative beliefs about money and replace them. Share knowledge without pride. Be grateful — on a grand scale, for everything.

Couple's forecast

When the nineteen appears in the joint forecast — it is one of the brightest and most joyful periods for the union. The couple literally bathes in warmth and light. Everything that was tense — softens. Everything that was hidden — becomes clear.

This is a time of shared achievements and recognition. A couple that shines together — attracts opportunities, money, the right people. Joint projects, charity, going out to mass events together — all of this strengthens the union.

The birth of a child — is one of the most characteristic events of the period. Or special attention and time devoted to the children who already exist.

Relationships with fathers — your own and your partner's — come to the foreground. A good time to mend these connections.

For the single — vivid romantic acquaintances. For couples — a new round of love and joy.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk — one of the partners starts to burn the other. Sharp words, biting criticism, self-flagellation that spills into the relationship — all of this destroys the good that exists.

Conflicts with men and problems with fathers — can press on the couple from outside.

Childlessness or problems with children — a painful theme in the minus scenario. The loss of status or money in one of the partners — a trial for the union in this period.

Recommendations for the couple

Rejoice together — this is the main practice of the period. Go to events, communicate with people, be among the crowd. Devote time to children — your own and others'. Be grateful to each other — every day, specifically and sincerely. Mend relationships with parents — this unblocks the couple's energy. Share warmth with those around you together — this multiplies it within the union. And remember — in this period your couple can become an example for others. Shine — you have it in you.

Arcana 20. Judgement. Lineage and Clear Knowing.

Personal forecast

This is a period of global changes that have long been ripening. You've simply finally matured and the time has come. The way things were before — stops being satisfactory. A search for a new path begins.

Stepping out onto large horizons — a new level, a relocation, unexpected popularity, going into the public space. If you've reached your maximum at work — this energy will push you toward your own venture. Doing something new on the basis of what's been built up — is the main task of the period.

The connection with the lineage becomes especially strong. Positive changes in the family, the birth of children, reunion with relatives, the strengthening of ancestral ties. This is a period when it's important to work through relationships with both parents.

Good news, large money, important decisions that change life for years ahead — are characteristic events of the plus scenario.

The main trap is clinging to a past that's unsatisfactory simply because it's familiar. Repeating ancestral programs that pull you back.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Mend relationships with parents — eliminate grudges and misunderstandings. Compile a family tree — this powerfully boosts the energy of the period. Forgive your mother and father — through a letter, through the practice of constellations, through meditation. Unite the images of both parents behind your back — literally through visualization. Don't protest against the world — accept, but don't resign yourself.

Couple's forecast

When the twenty appears in the joint forecast — it is a period when the couple rises to a new level through work with the lineage. The union of two people is always a union of two ancestral systems. And precisely now this is felt especially clearly.

A couple that becomes aware of their ancestral programs — and works with them together — gets a powerful breakthrough in this period. Finances, new opportunities, publicity, stepping out onto large horizons — all of this opens through working with the lineage.

Often it is precisely in this period that couples decide to have children. Or a merging of families happens — through marriage, through living together, through a family business.

Important decisions that change the couple's life for many years ahead — are made precisely now. Trust this.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk is ancestral conflicts that spill into the relationship. Someone's parents, someone's relatives, old family grudges — all of this presses on the couple in this period.

Repeating negative ancestral programs — when one of the partners behaves like their mother or father in the most destructive manifestations — is a characteristic minus of the twenty.

Discord in the family, conflicts with relatives, stagnation due to an unwillingness to change — are events of the minus scenario.

Recommendations for the couple

Work with the lineage — each with their own. This is the key practice of the period for a couple.

Make peace with parents — both of you. Conduct the practice of uniting the images of mother and father. Study the history of your lineages together — this brings you closer on a surprisingly deep level. Protect your union from others' ancestral scripts — notice when you start acting not from yourself but from your lineage. And make important decisions now — the period supports everything done consciously and with love for your lineage.

Arcana 21. The World. Expansion and the Universe.

Personal forecast

This is a period of completion and expansion at once. Long projects that dragged on for years — finally complete. Long-awaited results arrive. And after this — the whole World opens. In the literal and figurative sense.

Relocations, travels, new people, new countries, going onto the international level, large-scale projects — all of this is supported by the energy of the twenty-one. The expansion of consciousness happens on its own — you suddenly understand that what seemed impossible — is easy. Wait, that was allowed all along?

A streak of difficulties ends. A time comes to simply live, enjoy, travel, take pleasure in what's been achieved.

The main trap is fears and doubts that prevent action. Debts and loans that limit expansion. Auto-aggression and self-flagellation that narrow the world to the size of a problem.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Travel — the farther the better. Learn languages. Agree to offers to relocate or try something new. Keep a gratitude journal — at least 10 points a day. Stop warring with yourself — treat yourself like a beloved child. Clear away debts. Visualize your dream travels — through food, languages, the atmosphere of other countries.

Couple's forecast

When the twenty-one appears in the joint forecast — it is a period when the couple literally expands. New horizons open for the union — new countries, new people, new opportunities that previously seemed unattainable.

This is a time when long joint plans finally come to life. What you walked toward together for a long time — arrives. The birth of a planned child, laying the foundation of a house, launching a large-scale joint project — are characteristic events of the period.

Joint travels in this period — are an especially powerful resource. They are not just entertainment — they expand the consciousness of both and open a new dimension in the relationship.

The couple's entry into the public space together — onto the internet, social media, the international level — receives strong support.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk is fears and distrust of life that keep the couple in a swamp. One wants to expand — the other is afraid. One is ready to relocate — the other clings to the familiar. This creates tension. Debts and financial limitations — can become an obstacle to joint expansion. It's important not to get into loans that will narrow the couple's possibilities.

The negative thinking of one of the partners — is especially contagious in this period. It literally closes doors that could have opened.

Recommendations for the couple

Travel together — this is the main practice of the period for a couple. Even a small trip to a new place changes something important between two people. Dream big together — and visualize those dreams. Complete everything that has long hung unfinished — and free up space for the new. Agree to the opportunities life offers — even if it's frightening. Stop warring with each other — the world begins within the union. And remember — in this period the whole world is open before your couple. Literally.

Personal forecast

Everything resets — and a new life begins. A blank page, a new venture, new relationships, a new city, a new image of yourself. The feeling as if you've broken free — and everything that held you in a cage before has simply vanished.

The period is full of dynamism, adventures, unexpected turns. Travels, new acquaintances, going online, freelancing, unusual activity — all of this is supported by the energy of the twenty-two. Unexpected money and winnings are possible.

You will want to embrace everything at once — this is normal. The main thing is not to cling to trifles and daily routine, to live in the flow, to enjoy the here and now.

The main trap is recklessness. Reckless risk, addictions, slipping into illusions — alcohol, gambling. A fixation on the material that drags you down like a snowball.

Recommendations for the personal forecast

Start something new — this is a mandatory condition of the plus scenario. Release everything that is leaving — without regret. Travel — at least to a neighboring city. Keep a gratitude journal — for what is and for what you want. Awaken the inner child — play, fool around, recall childhood joys. Don't violate others' boundaries or the law. Trust the flow.

Couple's forecast

When the twenty-two appears in the joint forecast — it is a period when the couple gets a chance to start everything anew. Not necessarily from scratch — but with a renewed sense of freedom within the union.

This is a time when the relationship can rise to a completely unexpected level. A couple that knows how to be light together — gets the maximum from this period. Joint travels, adventures, spontaneous decisions — all of this refreshes and renews the union.

The birth of a child, a new joint project, a relocation, going online together — are possible joyful events. An important chance that needs to be caught — appears. Don't miss it.

Freedom within the union — is the key theme of the period. Both must feel that they are not in a cage but in a space where they can breathe.

A case from my practice. Karina and Daniel felt stuck — the same walls, the same scenarios, a sense of a cage. In the couple's shared forecast stood the twenty-two — the energy of reset and a new life. The personal energies amplified it. Daniel had the thirteen — the old in him was dying off, he craved change. And Karina had the twenty-one — the energy of expansion; she longed for the world, movement, space. Everything pointed to one thing: time to start anew. They took the risk — took off on a long journey, then started a joint online project, gave each other the freedom to breathe. The twenty-two reset the old, and the personal energies of each turned it into a new chapter instead of a breakup.

What to watch for in the couple

The main risk is rash decisions made on a wave of freedom. A rupture that happens impulsively and then turns out to be a mistake. Or on the contrary — one of the partners slips into addictions and illusions while the other tries to hold onto reality.

Betrayal and the loss of friends — are possible blows from outside that press on the couple.

Divorce — in the minus scenario. Especially if one wants freedom and the other holds on.

Recommendations for the couple

Give each other freedom — real freedom. Don't be jealous of your partner's life, don't constrain them. Travel together — this is the main practice of the period. Start something new together — a project, a hobby, an adventure. Be light with each other — play, laugh, fool around. Be grateful for the relationship — both for what's in it and for what you want. And remember — freedom in a couple is not a threat to the union. It is its air. Where there is air — there is life.

Conclusion

That's all. You've passed through all twenty-two arcana. You've seen how relationships breathe — their high tides and low tides, their rises and trials, their code.

And now you know what almost no one knows.

You will no longer panic when a difficult period comes. You won't take a natural dip for the end of love. You won't leave right before the dawn. You'll open the forecast, look at the energy of the year — your own, your partner's, the shared one — and understand what's happening and why. And having understood — you'll be able to act. Gently where gentleness is needed. Boldly where the doors are open.

This is the meaning of forecasting. It doesn't take the mystery out of life. It gives you a foundation. It turns fear into understanding, and helplessness into command.

You've stopped being a passenger. Now you're at the helm.

Where to go next

If this book resonated with you — know that it is only a part of the larger world I live in and share.

My book "Codes of Compatibility" is a complete guide to relationships through the Matrix of Destiny. About the purpose of your couple — why you met and where you are going together.

About karmic tails — the programs that govern your choice of partner. About how each of you truly behaves in a relationship — beneath the masks and the words.

A separate guide — "The Betrayal Code." About what exactly the ancestral system is searching for in a partner, and why betrayal happens. A unique system that isn't available anywhere in the open. It explains what remained a mystery for years — why people leave, why they cheat, and how to prevent it.

What's coming very soon

I am working on a book called "Love Karma" — and it will be the deepest of all my works.

If forecasting teaches you to read time, and the Betrayal Code teaches you to understand your partner, then "Love Karma" is about healing. About how to break out of the negative scenarios that repeat from relationship to relationship, from life to life. Why you attract the same type of person again and again. Why you step on the same rake. What karmic knots trail behind you from past incarnations — and how to finally untie them.

And a separate major theme of this book — the awakening of sexuality. Liberation from the blocks, shame, and ancestral prohibitions that kept your sensuality locked away for years. A return to yourself — alive, passionate, free.

This is a book for those who are tired of going in circles and are ready to truly step out of them.

Stay close

I share knowledge on social media — breakdowns, insights, living stories from my practice. There I answer questions and show how the Matrix works through real examples. Follow, read, ask questions. I'm here so that you walk this path not blindly — but with light.

And most importantly

Remember: you are not a passenger in your own life. Not a victim of circumstances, of time, or of others' decisions.

You hold a map. You know the rhythm. You see the energy guiding your union. And now it depends only on you — whether you live your year blindly or consciously. In the minus or in the plus.

I believe — you will choose the light.

With love and faith in you,

Nika Matrix
